

BREAKMAKER FIRE RAKE / HOE

The BREAKMAKER hand tool is a heavy duty but lightweight bush debris rake combined with a sharpened hoe blade and is known most commonly throughout Australia's Bush Fire Brigades as a "McLeod Tool" Manufactured in Western Australia from heat treated plate with hardened blade, galvanised, and fitted with a straight grain timber handle, this combination fire control handtool has proven itself to be more than adequate to enable Fire Crews to establish fast "bare earth" control line breaks during most prevention and suppression Bush Fire activities.
