

PULASKI AXE / MATTOCK

The PULASKI is a combination axe and mattock hand tool which although not well known to Bush Fire Brigades in Australia, is standard equipment for most U.S. Forest Fire Fighting Agencies and conforms to a National Standards U.S. Forrest Service Specification.

Manufactured in Western Australia from high grade cast steel with finished blade edges and fitted with a straight grain timber handle, this combination handtool has proven a very adaptable rugged use item of Bush Fire Control Equipment or Off Road 4WD vehicle use for chopping, trenching or grubbing.
